CHALLENGES CONFRONTING AMERICAN LEPROSY MISSIONS, INC. AND THEIR CONSTITUENCIES

CHANGES IN LEPROSY THERAPY

1 — Exceptional advances — medical, surgical and social — have been made in the therapy of leprosy. The sulfone drugs are rendering bacteriologically negative a large number of patients. The non-infectiveness of a larger number, even when positive, has been established. Thousands can now be treated at clinics instead of mere hundreds in settlements.

2 — Surgical correction of some deformities and the prevention of others now make it possible, physically, to return most negative patients to normal life. Vocational retraining and social acceptance await better social leadership.

THE HISTORIC WITNESS

3 — Toward these ends, unpredictable a few years ago, Christian missions took the first steps a hundred and more years ago. Missionaries were then the pioneers in even rescuing leprosy victims from misery and starvation. Slowly governments and secular agencies began to follow their example.

THE PRESENT OPPORTUNITY

4 — Into the new, startlingly altered therapy of leprosy the governments of several countries have now entered or are on the point of entering. Some are now requesting the participation of missions in new, enlightened and expanded programs.

5 — Missions thus have an opportunity to give in this century a Christian witness comparable to, but different in application from, their witness of the last. It will consist, especially, in the creation of pilot-plants — the very best that Christian conscience coupled with medical knowledge can possibly devise. Such plants will require more money than we are now giving — very much more money.

6 — In the United States such an enlarged challenge is an enlarged challenge to all Protestant churches, and to American Leprosy Missions which alone ties them together, cooperatively functioning to battle this scourge overseas. Already we aid 151 colonies, clinics, hospitals and dispensaries. Through this widely planted front against leprosy, the churches of America can channel to almost any country in the world the new help now needed and possible.

7 — To bring leprosy under control now seems possible for the first time. To wipe it out is the goal.

The Mission to Lepers (London) is the parent body of American Leprosy Missions, Inc., from which the latter organization severed organic relationship in 1917 when it became incorporated in the State of New York. Close cooperative relationships continue, particularly in the joint support of all American-connected leprosy units in India, of which 60% is provided by the American organization.
